

JADE VALLANCE

ORGANISATIONS & PROFESSIONALS

Hi,

I'm Jade and am Head of Care for an organisation for people with learning disabilities called Active Prospects. I'm also the founder of the pro-active committee which is an organisation run by people with learning disabilities for people who use services. The committee has been going for two years and is now fully registered with its own constitution and board. All key members of the board are people who use services. The committee has 3 strands: social activities and isolation in supported living, political awareness and services, and peer support. The committee meets every two weeks and drive through change.

I would like this opportunity not just for personal improvement but also to help drive through change for people who use services.

Kind regards,

Jade Vallance
