

PETER ALLUM

PEOPLE WITH LEARNING DISABILITIES

My name is Peter Allum and as I am a person with a learning disability myself. I believe that all people with a learning disability should have a voice and be heard. The more of us that there are, the stronger we will be. And the louder the voice!

With the right support, people with a learning disability can make a difference to other people's lives by sharing experiences and offer peer support to those in a similar position.

I am currently the Chair of Hackney People First. I am also currently the co-chair of the Hackney Partnership Board.

Although I am not carer, I think that the voice of Family Carers should also be heard.

Learning Disability England