Mobile phone

This will usually be the amount you pay for calls, texts and internet usage on your mobile phone.

If you choose a pay-as-you-go you will have to buy more credit when it runs out.

Look at your bank statement and see how much you have spent on credit in the previous month.

If you have a mobile phone contract then you pay a set monthly fee for a fixed period of time.

Before you sign up for a contract you will be told how much this is going to cost you per month.

If you have one set up already and don't know how much you're paying, get in touch with your mobile phone provider.
