Data – friend or foe?

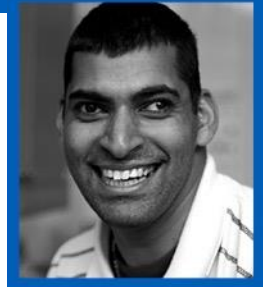

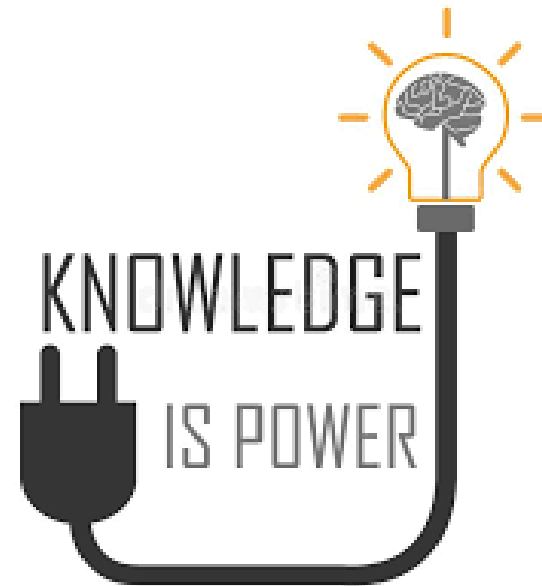

Think about the data requests we have in our lives...

Data about us is collected when we buy things, eat out or travel – our lifestyle and choices are everybody's business!

Knowledge is power!

- Every day people decide how to prioritise activity, what to fund, what is needed to support our sector, etc. They can have a stronger evidence base for these decisions if we can give them a better picture based on accurate data.
- Your data is helping to bring media attention to adult social care and increasing public support and awareness of the issues faced by our sector.
